Father Stephen's Message to the Faithful
The "fences" (3:1-6)
The Teaching of the Lord to the Gentiles by the Twelve Apostles
(The Didache)

My child, flee from every evil thing and from everything that is like it:

Be not prone to anger,
for the path of anger leads to murder;

Neither be excitable nor quarrelsome nor hot-tempered,
for from all these are born murders.

My child, be not lustful,
for the path of lust leads to sexual promiscuity;
neither be obscene in speech nor have roving eyes,
for from all of these are born adulteries.

My child, be not a diviner of omens since its path leads to idolatry;
neither be an enchanter, nor astrologer, nor magician -- nor even wish to see or to hear such things -- for from all these is born idolatry.

My child, be not a liar, since the path of lying leads to theft;
neither be fond of money, nor vainglorious,
for from these are born all thefts.

My child, be not one who complains, since its path leads to blasphemy;
neither be stubborn nor evil-minded,
for from all these are born blasphemies.

But be meek, since "the meek will inherit the earth" [Ps. 37:11; Matt. 5:5].

Be patient and merciful and without guile and quiet and good and always fearing the words which you have heard [Isa. 66:2].

Exalt not yourself nor allow your soul to become arrogant. Let not your soul be yoked with the haughty [Rom. 12:16; James 2:2,3], but associate with the righteous and lowly.

Whatever befalls you, receive these experiences as good, knowing that nothing happens without God.

Sophia: Secret Wisdom

Sophia: Secret Wisdom is an HD feature documentary in production, not yet complete. Its goal is to explore and provide concrete ways to promote peace, understanding and tolerance.

The project illuminates significant mysteries of existence and ways of peace, through insight and wisdom from ancient and living spiritual masters. The film focuses on stories of monks, hermits and sages for the 4th - 12th centuries in the Christian east who lived in caves and the first monasteries of Egypt, Israel (Roman Palestine), Syria, Greece, Romania, Armenia, and Russia/former Soviet Union, and on those who still live there today.

This is going to be an unbelievable film about Orthodox spirituality around the world. However, they need more funds to finish the "Russian/Ukrainian" part of the monastic visits. Please encourage anyone you know to contribute to its completion. Actual footage of the movie, more information and a way to contribute can be found at:

Great and Holy Friday

(Excerpted from the writings of Fr. Paul Lazor)

On Great and Holy Friday, Christ died on the Cross. He gave up His spirit with the words: "It is finished" (John 19:30). These words are better understood when rendered: "It is consummated." He had accomplished the work for which His heavenly Father had sent Him into the world. He became a man in the fullest sense of the word. He accepted the baptism of repentance from John in the Jordan River. He assumed the whole human condition, experiencing all its alienation, agony, and suffering, concluding with the lowly death on the Cross. He perfectly fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah:

"Therefore I will divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he has poured out his soul to death, and was numbered with the transgressors; yet he bore the sins of many, and made intercession for the transgressors." (Isaiah 53:12)

The Man of Sorrows

On the Cross Jesus thus became "the man of sorrows; acquainted with grief" whom the prophet Isaiah had foretold. He was "despised and forsaken by men" and "smitten by God, and afflicted" (Isaiah 53:3-4). He became the one with "no form or comeliness that we should look at him, and no beauty that we should desire him" (Isaiah 53:2). His appearance was "marred beyond human semblance, and his form beyond that of the sons of men" (Isaiah 52:14). All these Messianic prophecies were fulfilled in Jesus as he hung from the Cross.

As the end approached, He cried: "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" (Matthew 27:46). This cry indicated His complete identification with the human condition. He had totally embraced the despised, forsaken and smitten condition of suffering and death - alienation from God. He was truly the man of sorrows.

Yet, it is important to note that Jesus' cry of anguish from the Cross was not a sign of His loss of faith in His Father. The words which He exclaimed are the first verse of Psalm 22, a messianic Psalm. The first part of the Psalm foretells the anguish, suffering and death of the Messiah. The second part is a song of praise to God. It predicts the final victory of the Messiah.

Crucifixion - The Triumph of Evil

Before succumbing to this cruel Roman method of executing political criminals, Jesus suffered still other injustices. He was stripped, mocked and beaten. He wore a "kingly" crown of thorns on His head. He carried His own cross. He was finally nailed to the cross between two thieves at a place called Golgotha (the place of the skull) outside Jerusalem. An inscription was placed above His head on the Cross to indicate the nature of His crime: "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews." He yielded up His spirit at about the ninth hour (3 p.m.), after hanging on the Cross for about six hours.

On Holy Friday evil triumphed. "It was night" (John 13:30) when Judas departed from the Last Supper to complete his act of betrayal, and "there was darkness over all the land" (Matthew 27:45) when Jesus was hanging on the Cross. The evil forces of this world had been massed against Christ. Unjust trials convicted Him. A criminal was released to the people instead of Him. Nails and a spear pierced His body. Bitter vinegar was given to Him to quench His thirst. Only one disciple remained faithful to Him. Finally, the tomb of another man became His place of repose after death.

The innocent Jesus was put to death on the basis of both religious and political charges. Both Jews and Gentile Romans participated in His death sentence.

"The rulers of the people have assembled against the Lord and His Christ." (Psalm 2 - the Prokeimenon of the Holy Thursday Vespers Liturgy)

We, also, in many ways continue to participate in the death sentence given to Christ. The formal charges outlined above do not exhaust the reasons for the crucifixion. Behind the formal charges lay a host of injustices brought, on by hidden and personal motivations. Jesus openly spoke the truth about God and man. He thereby exposed the false character of the righteousness and smug security, both religious and material, claimed by many especially those in high places. The constantly occurring expositions of such smugness in our own day teach us the truly illusory nature of much so-called righteousness and security. In the deepest sense, the death of Christ was brought about by hardened, personal sin - the refusal of people to change themselves in the light of reality, which is Christ.

"He came to His very own, and His own received Him not" (John 1:11).

Especially we, the Christian people, are Christ's very own. He continues to come to us in His Church. Each time we attempt to make the Church into something other than the eternal coming of Christ into our midst, each time we refuse to repent for our wrongs; we, too, reject Christ and participate in His death sentence.
