FATHER STEPHEN'S MESSAGE TO THE FAITHFUL

Whisper of the Snake. Fourth Monthly Installment: Chapter 1: Propriety (continues)

They huddled in a group there, chastising the air and each other with postures and gestures exacting and sharp. The warming of engines and the backs of their winter coats formed for me a wall of no-entry, absorbing their muffled conversations, allowing only phrases and laughter to evaporate on the rising steam of their voices.

The one female voice belonged to dark-haired Tasilika, sad-eyed, sallow Tasilika. Her family was one of the few who still lived within the sound of the church's bell. She was a lonely figure, who, at the age of 44, remained in fact, a child. Showered, hair combed, slippered, robed, and in her canopied-pink and stuffed-doll bed every night by nine, her irritability at the meeting I forgave. After all, she was up past her bedtime.

One of the many of her generation who for reasons now bitter and hazy had never married, reasons which long ago had ceased to make the slightest sense. Outwardly pleasant men and women, not unattractive, industrious, and simple... People who had somehow been constrained by a code written in another language for a different world and time... An endogamous code which carried as its penalty, ostracism for those who dared abate their loneliness and longing by recognizing love outside the clan... And for its observance, a sentence of derision and despair.

She would be the first to leave the huddle at the pavement's edge. I watched as she walked away through the trees behind the church like a solitary nun. Her hands in her pockets, head bent forward, stepping deliberately onward, her collar turned up against the wind. A chilling wind that faltered for a moment, and then drawing in its breath, mimicked our forlorn and graceless choir as it rattled through the darkened barren branches dancing just about her head.

The men closed the doors of their cars and once again I alone remained, sealed in stillness as the frosted red of their tail-lights turned slowly out of sight.

Prayer for the Sick

O Holy Father, heavenly Physician of our souls and bodies, Who has sent Thine Only-begotten Son our Lord Jesus Christ to heal all our ailments and deliver us from death: do Thou visit and heal Thy servant _____, granting him/her release from pain and restoration to health and vigor, that he/she may give thanks unto Thee and bless Thy Holy Name. of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit: now and ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Reflections in Christ by Fr. Alexander Schmemann

Thank You, O Lord!

FINAL WORDS - Father Alexander Schmemann celebrated the divine liturgy for the last time on Thanksgiving Day. This was particularly appropriate since Father Alexander had devoted his whole life to teaching, writing and preaching about the Eucharist; for the word eucharist in Greek means thanksgiving. At the conclusion of the liturgy, Father Alexander took from his pocket a short written sermon, in the form of a prayer, which he proceeded to read. This was a strange occurrence since Father never wrote his liturgical homilies, but delivered them extemporaneously. These were his words, which proved to be the last ever spoken by him from the ambo in Church.

Everyone capable of thanksgiving is capable of salvation and eternal joy.

Thank You, O Lord, for having accepted this Eucharist, which we offered to the Holy Trinity, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, and which filled our hearts with the joy, peace and righteousness of the Holy Spirit.

Thank You, O Lord, for having revealed Yourself unto us and given us the foretaste of Your Kingdom.

Thank You, O Lord, for having united us to one another in serving You and Your Holy Church.

Thank You, O Lord, for having helped us to overcome all difficulties, tensions, passions, temptations and restored peace, mutual love and joy in sharing the communion of the Holy Spirit.

Thank You, O Lord, for the sufferings You bestowed upon us, for they are purifying us from selfishness and reminding us of the "one thing needed": Your eternal Kingdom. Thank You, O Lord, for having given us this country where we are free to Worship You.

Thank You, O Lord, for this school, where the name of God is proclaimed.

Thank You, O Lord, for our families: husbands, wives and, especially, children who teach us how to celebrate Your holy Name in joy, movement and holy noise.

Thank You, O Lord, for everyone and everything.

Great are You, O Lord, and marvelous are Your deeds, and no word is sufficient to celebrate Your miracles.

Lord, it is good to be here! Amen.

VENERABLE SAVA THE SANCTIFIED

(Commemorated on December 5)

Saint Sava the Sanctified was born in the fifth century at Cappadocia of pious Christian parents, John and Sophia. His father was a military commander. Journeying to Alexandria on military matters, his wife went with him, but they left their five-year-old son in the care of an uncle. When the boy reached eight years of age, he entered the monastery of St Flavian located nearby. The gifted child quickly learned to read and became an expert on the Holy Scriptures. In vain did his parents urge St Sava to return to the world and enter into marriage.

When he was seventeen years old he received monastic tonsure, and attained such perfection in fasting and prayer that he was given the gift of wonderworking. After spending ten years at the monastery of St Flavian, he went to Jerusalem, and from there to the monastery of St Euthymius the Great (January 20). But St Euthymius sent St Sava to Abba Theoctistus, the head of a nearby monastery with a strict cenobitic rule. St Sava lived in obedience at this monastery until the age of thirty.

After the death of the Elder Theoctistus, his successor blessed St Sava to seclude himself in a cave. On Saturdays, however, he left his hermitage and came to the monastery, where he participated in divine services and ate with the brethren. After a certain time St Sava received permission not to leave his hermitage at all, and he struggled in the cave for five years.

St Euthymius attentively directed the life of the young monk, and seeing his spiritual maturity, he began to take him to the Rouba wilderness with him. They set out on January 14, and remained there until Palm Sunday. St Euthymius called St Sava a child-elder, and encouraged him to grow in the monastic virtues.

When St Euthymius fell asleep in the Lord (+ 473), St Sava withdrew from the Lavra and moved to a cave near the monastery of St Gerasimus of Jordan (March 4). After several years, disciples began to gather around St Sava, seeking the monastic life. As the number of monks increased, a lavra sprang up. When a pillar of fire appeared before St Sava as he was walking, he found a spacious cave in the form of a church.

St Sava founded several more monasteries. Many miracles took place through the prayers of St Sava: at the Lavra a spring of water welled up, during a time of drought there was abundant rain, and there were also healings of the sick and the demoniacs. St Sava composed the first monastic Rule of church services, the so-called "Jerusalem Typikon", accepted by all the Palestine monasteries. The saint surrendered his soul to God in the year 532.
